

(i) Have voting devices for separate candidates and questions, which shall be arranged in separate parallel rows or columns, so that, at any primary election, one or more adjacent rows or columns may be assigned to the candidates of a party, and shall have parallel office columns or rows transverse thereto;

(j) Have a counter, or other device, to be known as a "public counter", the register of which is visible from the outside of the machine, which shall show during any period of voting the total number of voters who have operated the machine during said period of voting;

(k) Have a protective counter, or other device, the register of which cannot be reset, which shall record the cumulative total number of movements of the operating mechanism;

(l) Be provided with a lock or locks, by means of which, immediately after the polls are closed, or the operation of the machine for an election is completed, all movement of the registering mechanism is absolutely prevented;

(m) Be provided with a screen, hood or curtain, which shall conceal the actions of the voter while voting;

(n) Be constructed of material of good quality, in a neat and workmanlike manner;

(o) When properly operated, register or record correctly and accurately every vote cast;

(p) Be so constructed that a voter may readily learn the method of operating it;

(q) Be safely transportable;

(r) Be so constructed and controlled that, during the progress of voting, it shall preclude every person from seeing or knowing the number of votes registered for any candidate, and from tampering with any of the registering mechanism.

82. The form and arrangement of ballot-labels shall be in accordance with the provisions as to ballots contained in Section 58 of this Article except that:

(a) Said ballot-labels shall be printed in plain clear type in black ink and, except in Primary Elections, upon clear white material of such size and arrangement as to fit the construction of the machine; in Primary Elections said ballot-labels may be printed upon clear material or material of different colors, in the discretion of the Boards of Supervisors of Elections.

(b) The ballot-label for each candidate or group of candidates, nominated or seeking nominations by a political party shall contain the name or designation of such political party; provided, however, that such party name shall consist of one word only. The ballot-labels shall be so arranged that exact uniformity (so far as practicable) will prevail as to size and
